Is the Government aware of any instances where any self- assessment tool or tools related to conveyance duty liabilities or concessions has or may have provided an incorrect assessment or information?

Rachel Stephen-Smith MLA - The answer to the Member's question is as follows:

No, the ACT Revenue Office has not advised me of any errors with the online self-assessment tool (homebuyer concession scheme questionnaire). The questionnaire returns an indicative result based on responses to the questions. If a person provides an incomplete or incorrect response, the indicative result will be based on the incomplete or incorrect information.

The ACT Revenue Office website content, online forms and self-assessment tools are regularly reviewed and updated to ensure they contain current and relevant information.
